

How to . . . Make a Viking or Valkyrie Shield

Shield

- Strong corrugated card
- Coloured paper or paint
- Small, flat circular tub
- Black marker pen
- Ruler
- Duct tape
- Glue

1. Cut two large circles out of the cardboard. Glue or tape them together making sure the corrugations are in opposite directions for strength. Duct tape around the edge.
2. Using a long ruler, split the shield into six segments. Paint or cover each segment in different colours. Draw along the edges of the segments to add definition.
3. Glue the circular tub to the centre of the shield. – Paint this if necessary.
4. Cut two narrow strips of cardboard, long enough to fit your forearm through and attach them to the reverse of the shield to form a handle.
